Black River Falls Public Library as received its first energy bill since the solar panels went live. The library paid $0 for energy last month, and even has an energy credit to put towards later, less sunny months! An additional ethernet cable needs to be installed before our solar data monitor can be up and running. Once the solar data monitor is on, we will host an open house with our solar representative on site to answer any questions. Thank you once again to our community donors, and our grant support by EBSCO Industries, Solar Library, and Solar Moonshot programs.

Additionally, thank you to all our staff and Youth Services Librarian, Melody Gesicki, for another amazing summer reading program! She planned and coordinated story times, crafts, and events for all

from Melody Gesicki, Youth Services

Back to school for 207 BRF Public Library Reading Dragon Tamers! We had such positive feed back that Reading Dragons is staying! We are currently hard at work creating the next set of cards to release in October. Until then, keep reading. When finished with the tracker, make sure to put it in the orange basket on Miss Melody's desk. Prizes are waiting! September will be a quiet month in the youth area. I will be checking the condition (and wiping down the covers during the month) of EVERY item in the youth area. October 1st, LEGO will begin for the fall and winter months. Thursdays 3:30-4:30 p.m. Friday, October 2nd, Storytime will begin at 10 a.m. Look for the schedules for fall/winter youth programs and event in the second week of September.

from Kevin Gerrity, Service Coordinator

We had such a wonderfully busy summer here at the Library, from all the Reading Dragon Trainers to the people who came out for our workshops and presentations. I want to shout out the wonderful artists we got to showcase in the Large Program Room, as well as the people who lent us amazing artifacts for the display case. We're keeping the momentum going this month in September with an extended exhibit of works from the Jackson County Fair. If you missed the invites, we still have a bit of space to hang your work for the month. If you have shown your work at the County Fair in the past, please reach out to me for next year! We will have the Month of July to showcase previous year's art submissions leading up to the fair, then in September highlight the new year's submitters. For any inquiries, please feel free to reach out to me directly at k.gerrity@wrlsweb.org
